

About CSD

The Center for Spinal Disorders is committed to providing the highest standard of patient care. With the attention of primary care physicians and the support of surgical and non-surgical specialists, the Center offers integrated, quality health care to achieve the most effective approach in medical treatment. Our focus is to maintain a compassionate attitude, continuously monitor personal care and interact with other health care providers who share our vision of positive medical outcomes through continuous research and education. The Center for Spinal Disorders strives to be a Center of Excellence.

The strength of the Center lies in the medical expertise brought to you not only by your spine surgeon, but also by the other complementary specialists involved in your care. Through integrating the knowledge and medical care of physiatrists, anesthesiologists, neurologists, radiologists, vascular surgeons (when necessary), internal medicine and family physicians, chiropractors, physical therapists, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and specialty trained nurses, the Center provides optimum quality health care in a cost-effective manner.

Our physicians provide complete surgical and non-surgical evaluations and treatment of spinal disorders including:

- Minimally Invasive Treatment
- Spinal Injections
- Scoliosis
- Micro Spine Surgery
- Lumbar Disc Replacement
- Cervical Disc Replacement
- FDA Research Technology
- Spine Trauma
- Spinal Evaluations
- Spine Tumor Stabilization

Our physicians and staff are actively involved in research, lecturing nationally and internationally, teaching as well as keeping up with current trends in the care of patients with spinal disorders.

Our physicians are affiliated with most Denver metropolitan hospitals to include: Health One North Suburban Medical Center, Centura St. Anthony Hospitals, Platte Valley Medical Center, Exempla Lutheran Medical Center, Children's Hospital, and University Hospital.
